U.S. Soldier Escapes Viet Cong

Condition Good
After Being Held 9 Months

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. Army sergeant from Altus, Okla., who had been a prisoner of the Viet Cong for about nine months, escaped from his captors last Monday and was picked up Friday by an American helicopter crew, the U.S. command reported today.

He was identified as Kenneth R. Gregory, son of Mrs. Helen Gregory, P.O. box 178, general delivery, Altus, Okla.

Spokesmen said he was married but his wife's name and address were not available immediately.

GOOD CONDITION

Gregory was found about 12 miles northwest of Tay Ninh City, an area near the Cambodian border, the command said. His condition was listed as "good" by Army doctors. He had lost 10 pounds, dropping from 165 to 155, while in captivity, the announcement said.

Gregory was spotted on a bamboo jungle trail by a U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division helicopter crew, four days after he "escaped from captivity," the announcement said. It gave no details of his escape, where he had been held or his treatment.

After being picked up by the helicopter, Gregory was taken to the 24th Evacuation Hospital at Long Binh, where he is undergoing examinations.

"When they picked me up, I was actually crying," Gregory was quoted as saying.

His first American food was fried chicken and milk.

"It's the best food I've had in a long time," he said.

A few hours after the milk and chicken he had a meal of steak, vegetables, lettuce and tomatoes, gelatin, ice cream and milk at the evacuation hospital.

The command said he was asked what he missed most while in captivity and he replied: "coffee. The VC don't drink coffee. They like hot sweetened water and tea."

The announcement said Gregory entered the army May 18, 1964, and landed in South Vietnam Nov. 2, 1967. When reported missing on Aug. 25, 1968, he was assigned to a transportation company in the 1st Logistical Command.

Gregory, who is 23 years old, was a squad leader in charge of a five-ton truck that was on a resupply mission to Tay Ninh City when the convoy was ambushed.

They Face Hot Issues On Return

House, Senate
Wade Through
State Budget

LANSING (AP) — The long Memorial Day weekend gave Michigan legislators a chance to catch their breath and recover their tempers after hot, angry sessions this week.

But more of the same is in store on Monday.

Each chamber has completed its share of preliminary action on Gov. William Milliken's proposed $1.52 billion budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The work now changes hands.

Practical and foresighted senators got an early start on the long weekend by continuing a late Wednesday session into the early hours of Thursday.

But the House, larger, less disciplined, found itself still uncertain at mid-afternoon Thursday of adjourning at all.

Attempts to iron out sharp disagreement over principle and some $7 million in two appropriation bills went on amid occasional outbursts from legislators eager to get away.

Rep. James F. O'Neill, D-Saginaw, suggested at one point that the House postpone Memorial Day.

Final agreements, reached in interparty huddles, that ebbed and flowed about the huge chamber, made the following budget cuts:

—$4 million from the $279 million public welfare appropriation. An additional sum in federal matching aid would also be withdrawn from the more than $205-million, state medicare program.

A reduced tax, buried in the regulatory agencies appropriation, that would bring in some $2.2 million in aviation fuel taxes.

OTHER MATTERS

Meanwhile, there were these matters still simmering in the House:

—Senate rejection of a compromise committee's revision of the $847 million public school aid appropriation. Elimination of more than $1 million for a defunct Wayne County school district was expected to be opposed by House Democrats when meetings resume with Senate Republicans.

A Senate-approved resolution calling on Gov. Milliken to direct his special education study committee to report to state aid to parochial school teachers.

The House earlier turned down one Parochial proposal and House Speaker William A. Ryan, principal backer of the concept, said he was "not too keen" on pushing the Senate resolution.

Ongoing disagreement with the Senate over approval of funds from water pollution control bonds totaling $225 million. The Senate wants to keep close control over the money by requiring legislative approval of a bill detailing each approved, local project.

House negotiators believe a simpler resolution would be adequate and reduce special-interest maneuvering.

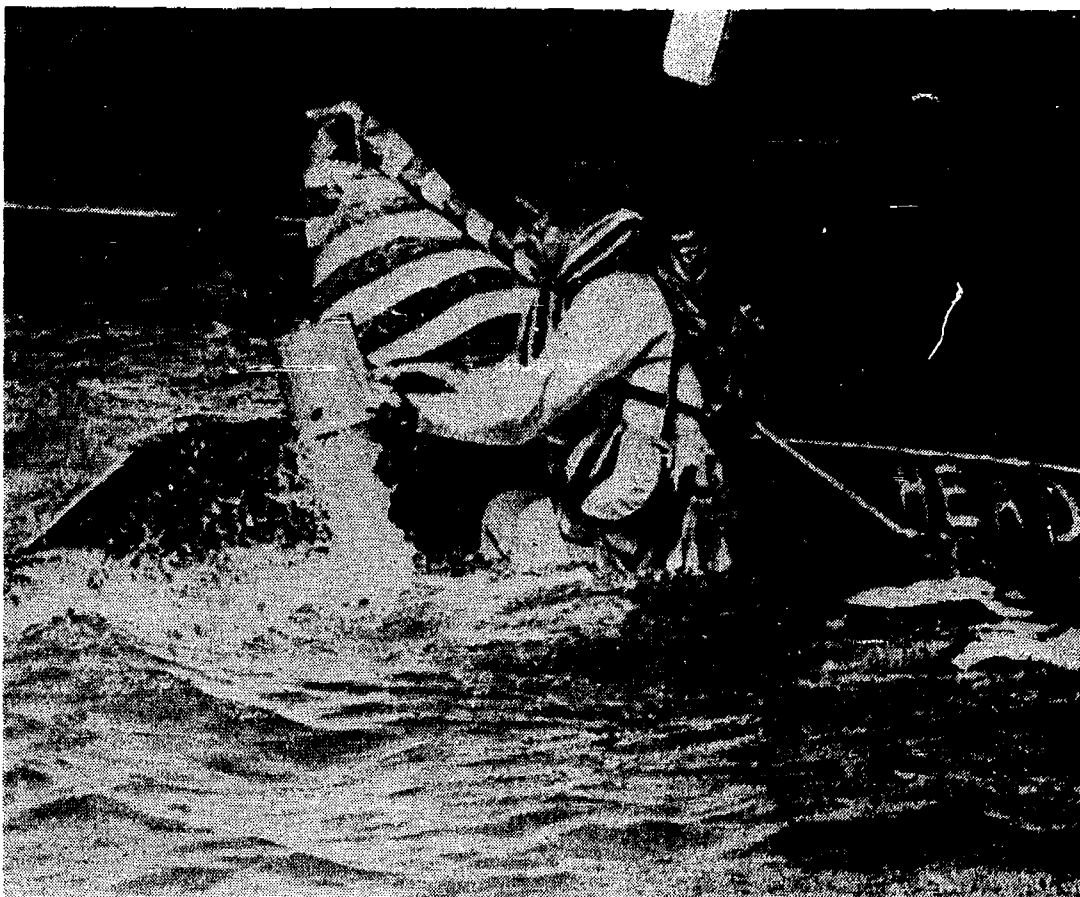

—More than 300 House-originated bills which must be sorted out by next Friday.

"There's no way we can do it," predicted one legislator. "We can't possibly crack that calendar before Fall."

BH School Tax Request Wins ARIC Endorsement

Area Resources Improvement Council (ARIC) today announced its endorsement of a 5.5-mill school tax proposal coming before Benton Harbor district voters June 9.

The millage is "necessary to maintain and improve the quality of education for the 12,000 students of the Benton Harbor school district," said industrialist Herbert Mendel, chairman of ARIC's education committee.

"ARIC trustees voted their approval of the school board's proposal only after thoughtful consideration," Mendel added.

"MONEY WELL-SPENT" "We know that taxes are a problem for everyone.

But this will be money well spent. It is a sound investment in the future of the Twin Cities area.

"The ARIC trustees," Mendel pointed out, "are well aware that this will be an additional tax load on their respective business firms. But even though business and industry already pay well more than half the Benton Harbor school property tax—and will pay a similar proportion of the increase—ARIC trustees decided the millage proposal was well conceived and a real necessity."

If the millage is approved, about half the proceeds will be used to maintain the current school programs—to meet costs of inflation. The other half is scheduled to be used for improved building maintenance, texts and curricula.

"ARIC recognizes the need for maintaining present facilities, continuing improvements in programs unifying teaching texts and materials throughout the district and to make wage adjustments," said Mendel.

"That's the only way we can keep the quality programs we have and improve those that need upgrading. No one else is going to do it for us."

FIGHTING PROBLEMS

ARIC is an organization of local business and industrial leaders formed two years ago to bring the muscle of industry to bear on social, economic and physical problems of the community.

President is Elisha Gray II, board chairman of Whirlpool Corp. Besides Mendel, who is president of Michigan Standard Alloys, Inc., other members of the education committee are: Warren Gast, president of Gast Manufacturing; Robert Hammer, vice president and general manager of Paramount Die Casting Co.; Robert Hungate, general manager of the Hydraulics Division, Bendix Corp.; J. Ken Keefer, president of Farmers & Merchants National bank; and Willard McKnight, president of Laboratory Equipment Co.

Brook was listed today in fair condition at Three Rivers hospital. Miss Young was pronounced dead at the scene by Rollo Schoff, Cass county coroner.

Story Not True About Illegal Fee

SOUTH HAVEN — A complaint of an out-of-town resident that someone was illegally charging a $1 fee for the launching of boats at public launching ramps in South Haven Friday was unfounded, according to state and city police from South Haven.

The South Haven recreation department had been ordered by the city council to begin charging the $1 fee this week. City police said a young man had been hired by the city to collect the fee and they could find no other unauthorized person collecting any such fee.

The fee is for out-of-town residents and is $1 per launch or $5 per season.

Gasoline Prices Back Up In 'Normal' Range

Twin city area gasoline prices were back up to "normal" today.

The jump to 39.9 cents for a gallon of regular and 41.9 for a premium gallon ended a two-month break for buyers.

How long the "normal" price will remain was not known, but some dealers were predicting it wouldn't be long. If the short tenure proves correct, prices would drop back to 34.9 for regular and 37.9 for premium.

The lower price involves what dealers describe as a "depressed price" system whereby prices of major brands go down to meet competition from independent dealers.

In the past year, the price has changed more than a dozen times between what is considered "normal" and the depressed level.

PAUL HARING
Teacher Retiring

Will Honor Teacher At Sodus

Retiring After 42 Years

MRS. GEORGE KAMRADT

SODUS — Residents of the Sodus school area will pay a tribute at an open house Sunday afternoon to a school teacher, Mrs. George (Lavina) Kamradt, who is retiring after 42 years of teaching.

Former pupils of the long-time teacher in any one of the 10 schools in which she served have been invited to the open house at the Sodus school from 2 to 4 p.m., according to a committee for the event.

Mrs. Kamradt began her teaching career at the Hollywood school in 1923 and has served the last five years in the Sodus school. Other schools in which she taught over the years in Berrien county include Chadwick, Columbian, Evans, Burke, Martindale, Boynton, Stewart, and Eau Claire junior high. She also was an instructor at Lakeview junior high in Battle Creek for one year before her marriage.

She lives with her husband at 3923 Naomi road, Sodus. A son, Robert, lives at Bridgman and another son, Edwin, resides in Richardson, Tex.

Program Dependent On Tax

Voters Asked To Approve 5.5 Mills

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of articles on the Benton Harbor school district relating to the tax millage election June 9.

A program to improve curriculum, staff and materials at Benton Harbor junior high was announced today by Dr. Mark Lewis, superintendent of schools.

"The proposed changes at the junior school reflect the needs of today's students in the light of today's world," said Dr. Lewis, "and will be a most important step in the upgrading of the entire Benton Harbor educational program."

The recommended changes were developed by a junior high faculty committee under direction of Principal Winston Ferris. Implementing the program is dependent on the district receiving more revenue which will be decided June 9 in an election on a 5.5-mill operating tax increase.

Faculty replacements and teachers of newly-added subjects at central junior high will be selected on the basis of full effectiveness within the school, Lewis said. Teachers will be sought who have background in inner city schools and a personal desire to teach in such schools.

Proposed curriculum improvements include:

- Addition of art, civics, junior business, typing, vocational information, career planning. Offering of Latin, Spanish or French to ninth graders, depending on teacher availability.

- A revised English curriculum for all grades; additional shop classes for boys and an extensive home economics program for girls.

- Eighth grade students from Sterne Brunson and Morton schools will have the opportunity for semester classes in drafting and shop. (Courses presently are denied to these students because they are offered in seventh grade at junior high and the students enter as eighth graders.)

- School counselors will strive for more parent contacts at home and at school. More personnel will be employed in the halls and cafeteria. A professionally-trained curriculum coordinator will work with students and teachers to keep curriculum programs in phase with changing needs.

Dr. Lewis also said that an attempt will be made to provide four additional classrooms for special education students staffed by qualified personnel. These special education needs are above what the state and county intermediate school district provide for Benton Harbor and are considered necessary to remove slow students from general classrooms for the benefit of all concerned.

The faculty committee was thanked by Lewis for its recommendations.

"All of these changes are needed to bring the junior high school program up to an educational level which will give our children the very best preparation for continuing their education."

"The new programs will be implemented at the beginning of the school year subject to the availability of qualified personnel. Voters approval of the additional operating funds in the June 9 school election will be most helpful in making the complete program a reality in the shortest possible time."

Student Council Heads Are Named

NEW BUFFALO — The New Buffalo high school students elected Rudi Prusa as president of the Student Council for the 1969-70 school year during their recent election. WORKING FOR STUDENTS: A faculty committee at Benton Harbor junior high school has devised a program for broad improvements in curriculum. Like most advances, the changes cost money and are tied in with the June 9 election for a 5.5-mill tax increase for school operating purposes. Front row, left to right: James Rutter, Mrs. Karl Schlabach and Sam Jones; second row; Winston Ferris, junior high principal; Kenneth Overley, Wallace Dunn and David Rector. ### AROUND OUR TOWNS

Ralph Marti Visitor From Mexico City

RALPH MARTI

A former Whirlpool executive and one-time Fairplain resident is visiting the Twin Cities this week for the first time since his departure to become general manager of a Mexican insecticide company in 1967.

Ralph Marti, who formerly lived at 333 Gary avenue, had worked with Whirlpool from 1957 to 1967 and finally was the corporation's manager for Latin America.

Born in Madrid, Spain in 1924, Marti came to the U.S. in 1948 to study linguistics at the University of Michigan.

Marti says he "didn't intend to stay so long here but one thing led to another."

After receiving a master of arts degree from Michigan in 1951, Marti went to work for American Motors until joining Whirlpool in 1957.

While here Marti was active in civic affairs and was chairman of a citizens council that raised questions as to the legality of the financing of Berrien County General Hospital annex. The original contract was invalidated by the State Supreme Court.

He also was a founder and a president of the Unitarian Fellowship and Cinema Arts society.

Marti has been elected treasurer of the Mexican association of insecticide and fertilizer manufacturers and was chosen by Mexican businessmen among a group making a recent tour of Latin America.

Marti's life in Mexico City has offered a unique opportunity to learn and understand the attitudes of Latin Americans while at the same time retaining an American background.

For example, he points out that in the recent Peru-U.S. embroilment over seizure of American fishing boats, it has been forgotten here that fishing is Peru's economic base and that American trawlers have been "fishing out" good areas off the coast of Peru.

He says that although Peru claims a 200-mile territorial limit into the Pacific ocean, "that's where their natural resources are."

He said that the recent trip to Mexico of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller made "a good impression" there. Rockefeller was on a fact finding mission to Latin America for President Nixon.

"I talked with several of the businessmen that conferred with Rockefeller when he was in Mexico and they were very impressed with him," he said.

He said that Rockefeller has been able to "divorce" himself of the oil magnate image connected with the name and comes across to Latinos as simply a political figure.

FAITHFUL patrol boys and girls were guests at a Silver Beach luncheon party staged by the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge No. 96, St. Joseph last week.

Lacinda Bonczkowski of Stevensville, a pupil at Christ Lutheran school, won one portable television set and Patrick Strzowski of 3395 Locust, a pupil at St. Joseph Catholic won the other.

Other prizes awarded were cameras to Steve Nowlen, 1708 Niles avenue, a pupil at Jefferson school and Suzanne Brown, 600 Kingsley, another Jefferson school student.

Transistor radios went to Catherine Thomas, 409 Ridge-

During the trial Thursday, three junior high students, ages 13 and 14 and all girls, testified that Bishop had told each of them that she should either go home or join the picket line. One of the girls said that Bishop had told her she would be an "Uncle Tom" if she went into the school.

Questioned by defense attorney Eddie Smith of Detroit, one of the girls indicated that school authorities had talked with her about the case but denied having been told what to say.

GRAY TESTIFIES
Charles L. Gray, attendance officer for Benton Harbor schools, described a conversation he had with Bishop in front of the school that morning. According to Gray, Bishop claimed to be responsible for the students that day. Gray stated that his reply was "Like heck you are."

Attorney Smith based his case on the assertion that Bishop had not attempted to keep students from entering the school and was exercising his right of free speech. Smith said that it was a case of a legal ordinance being "perverted to suppress free speech."

Taking the stand himself, Bishop denied even seeing the three girls who earlier identified him as the one who had instructed them not to go to school. He claimed as the intent of the picket line was to demand appointment of a black principal and protest against the suspension of a Negro student from the school. The girl who was suspended is said to have verbally threatened two teachers; her case is now pending in juvenile court.

Trial Ends With Jury Deadlocked

Maurice Bishop Is Bound Over On Third Count

Two court appearances Thursday for Maurice Bishop resulted in a hung jury in a misdemeanor trial and a judge's order binding him over to Berrien Circuit court for trial on a charge of resisting arrest.

A jury of five whites and one black deliberated four and a half hours, then announced that it could not reach a decision in the trial against Bishop on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors. Bishop, head of the Benton Harbor unit of the Southern Christian Leadership conference (SCLC), was accused of encouraging three girls to stay out of Benton Harbor junior high during picketing of the school last month.

OTHER APPEARANCE

In his second appearance Thursday before Sixth District Judge Harry Lait, Bishop, 36, was bound over to Circuit court on the charge of resisting arrest during a civil disturbance in Benton Harbor last July. Bishop was convicted Wednesday by a jury of being a disorderly person during the disturbance. Sentence was deferred pending further investigation. He is free on bond.

Quentin Fulcher, Berrien county Chief Assistant prosecutor, indicated after Thursday's hung jury that he had not reached an immediate decision on further prosecution on contributing to the delinquency of minors.

During the trial Thursday, three junior high students, ages 13 and 14 and all girls, testified that Bishop had told each of them that she should either go home or join the picket line. One of the girls said that Bishop had told her she would be an "Uncle Tom" if she went into the school.

Questioned by defense attorney Eddie Smith of Detroit, one of the girls indicated that school authorities had talked with her about the case but denied having been told what to say.

GRAY TESTIFIES
Charles L. Gray, attendance officer for Benton Harbor schools, described a conversation he had with Bishop in front of the school that morning. According to Gray, Bishop claimed to be responsible for the students that day. Gray stated that his reply was "Like heck you are."

Attorney Smith based his case on the assertion that Bishop had not attempted to keep students from entering the school and was exercising his right of free speech. Smith said that it was a case of a legal ordinance being "perverted to suppress free speech."

Taking the stand himself, Bishop denied even seeing the three girls who earlier identified him as the one who had instructed them not to go to school. He claimed as the intent of the picket line was to demand appointment of a black principal and protest against the suspension of a Negro student from the school. The girl who was suspended is said to have verbally threatened two teachers; her case is now pending in juvenile court.

TELS OF PAMPHLETS
Under questioning by Fulcher, Bishop admitted that the Sunday before the incident at the junior high he was in charge of passing out pamphlets that encouraged the reader to cooperate by keeping his children on the same day and the balance on confirmation of the sale. The winning bidder will be designated as the transferee of a Michigan class C resort liquor license, subject to approval of the Michigan Liquor Control commission.

Included in the auction are furniture, televisions, bar glassware, office equipment, and restaurant equipment.

South Haven Man's
Long Career Ends

ALBERT LABZ

SOUTH HAVEN—Funeral services were to be held today for a prominent South Haven man, Albert Carl Labz, retired manager of the South Haven division of Michigan Fruit Canners.

Mr. Labz died Thursday at the South Haven Community hospital. He was 64 years old.

SOUTH HAVEN NATIVE
A native of South Haven, Mr. Labz was born Feb. 15, 1905, the son of Albert and Selma Labz.

He retired in January of 1968 as manager of the Michigan Fruit Canners South Haven division. His retirement brought to a close a career that began 15 years before when he was still a high school student at South Haven.

In 1922, he began working part time at the then South Haven Preserving company, which later joined with other area firms to become Michigan Fruit Canners. He was named plant manager in 1937 and held that position until his retirement.

SERVED ON BOARDS

Labz was formerly a South Haven city council member and past president of the South Haven Airport board. He presently served on the city's board of public works.

Survivors include his wife, Edith; a daughter, Mrs. Frances Wolff of Indianapolis; and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were to be held at 4 p.m. today at the Calvin funeral home, South Haven. The Rev. Herbert Nabb of the First Congregational church was to officiate. Burial was to follow in Lakeside cemetery.

Memorials may be made to the First Congregational church.

Veterans of four wars participated in various ceremonies which stressed traditional Memorial Day themes and also sounded pleas for solution to domestic problems.

URGENT MESSAGE

At North Shore Memory Gardens, State Sen. Charles O. Zollar said: "Memorial Day, as no other patriotic holiday, sounds for Americans the urgent message of a need to find unity and brotherhood among ourselves."

At Crystal Springs cemetery, the Rev. Ellis Marshburn, pastor of First Presbyterian church, Benton Harbor, declared:

"For all their bravery and sacrifices, these honored war dead could have died in vain unless we in our personal lives support the things for which they fought."

The dead also were remembered in Catholic masses sponsored by Benton Harbor Knights of Columbus council 1120 at Calvary cemetery and St. Joseph Knights of Columbus council 1441 at St. Joseph's Catholic church.

About 150-200 persons attended the program sponsored by American Legion Post 105 and another veteran organizations at North Shore Memory Gardens.

"While this day honors men and women who put their country above themselves..." Zollar said, "We are at this moment a people divided on many vital issues, on purpose and even on traditional ideals."

Continued Zollar, "May we be reminded... that Memorial Day was born out of a terrible crisis in our history. That crisis saw our nation divided under two flags and brother pitted against brother American."

This country, said Zollar, now has about 200 million persons in it. "These 200 million are the people who comprise this society and this nation that we are proud to call America, and they are the people with whom each of us must get along in better harmony if we are to achieve this society and this nation's full promise."

"BETTER REPUBLIC"
"The promise of this nation won the great sacrifices of the men and women whom we honor on this Memorial Day. At this very moment, it would seem that we could do no less than to remember the words of a former President on another Memorial Day when he told the nation: 'Our part is to atone for the losses of the heroic dead by making a better republic for the living.'"

The Rev. Marshburn spoke on "Unfinished Business," saying the battle for freedom is never-ending whether it be in war among nations or developing harmony at the grass roots level.

RENT STRIKER

His Landlord

DETROIT (AP) — An eviction suit brought against a 21-year-old Michigan Bell Telephone Co. truck driver resulted Thursday in his having to pay back rent — less $60 in damages because of the landlord's failure to maintain his apartment according to their lease agreement.

The eviction suit was brought against Phillip Millerby Melvin Keppes, owner of a seven-month old apartment building at 3501 Iris for nonpayment of rent.

Miller and 39 other tenants had joined a rent strike against Keppes to protest inadequate safety measures and garbage disposal facilities, among other faults. Miller was the first subject of eviction proceedings.

A Common Pleas Court jury awarded the $60 damages to Miller — and also told him to pay his back rent — after taking a tour of the building.

The rent striking tenants' attorney said of the case, "It's a very important fact that no tenants can come to court and file counter claims against landlords threatening them with eviction."

Richard L. Dusek, Villa Park, Ill., reported he was robbed of his car Friday night by two hitchhikers; he picked up on North Waterstreet road. The car was later found in Waterstreet.

Dusek, staying in Hartford, told Berrien county sheriff's deputies when he stopped at a bridge about a half-mile down the road, the two struck him with fists and forced him from the car.

Dusek was treated at Waterstreet community hospital for a small wound in the arm and released.

The victim described the two youths as white, 18-20 years old and about 130 pounds each. One of the two, Dusek said, was wearing gray pants with cuffs.

Balloting
Scheduled
For June 9Five Seeking
Two School
Board Seats

LAWRENCE — Residents of the Lawrence school district will vote June 9 on an 11-mill proposal to provide extra operating funds for the district. The proposal includes the renewal of eight mills and three additional mills.

Voters of the district will also elect two persons to four-year terms on the board of education. Candidates are incumbent Horace Hutchins, Robert Carpp, Frank Owen, Mrs. Wilbur Perkins and Lester Zoodsma.

If approved, the 11-mill proposal would run for three years. Supt. Wesley Harding said approval of the 11-mill proposal would increase taxes by just three mills. The remaining eight mills would be a renewal of a levy which expired last December.

The extra three mills is needed to provide funds for additional staff, broader programs, additional equipment and salary adjustments. The superintendent said the extra money would not be used for sites, additions or renovations.

Harding said the extra three mills would be levied against taxpayers only as it is needed. He said the amount of money needed still depends largely on the amount of state aid the district will receive and that amount for next year is still unknown.

If the proposal is approved, the total millage levy for the district would be 29.18 mills. This includes 6.5 mills for debt retirement, 8.68 mills allocated from the county, three mills extra voted now in force, and the 11 mills extra voted. The 8.68 mills allocated by the county is the amount used this year. The same figure was approved for the district next year in preliminary meetings by the Van Buren County Tax Allocation board, but is not a final figure.

Residents will vote in the high school library between 7 a.m. and 8 p.m. on June 9.

WASHTENAW

Fund Pays Sheriff's Legal Bills

YPSILANTI (AP) — Washtenaw County Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey, who racked up almost $4,000 in lawyers' fees defending himself against unfair labor practice charges last year, can now pay the bills.

Harvey, named in charges brought by deputies, sought financial help from the County Board of Supervisors in paying for his defense before the State Labor Mediation Board. However, the board ruled against the request contending he did not ask the board for help before hiring the lawyers.

A $20-a-plate benefit was held at a restaurant near Belleville this week and more than 200 persons showed up, according to Fred Ellis, owner of the Red Door Restaurant.

Ellis explained: "We felt that the sheriff was treated unfairly by the County Board of Supervisors... because all other elected officials in the county can obtain legal aid from public funds."

Ellis and a group of Ypsilanti businessmen organized the dinner. Harvey was unavailable for comment.

Elected

Wendy Simons, 15, of St. Joseph high school, and Theresa Jensen, 16, of River Valley high school, Three Oaks, Wednesday were elected to offices of the newly-formed Michigan Association of Student Councils.

Miss Simons was elected recording secretary and Miss Jensen, treasurer, during the inaugural convention in Midland. Some 369 delegates from 127 high schools across the state attended.

Paul Centolella, 17, a senior at Edwardsburg high school, Cass county, was elected honorary president because of his work to organize the state organization. The youth and Tom Martin, 17, of River Valley high school, were credited with bringing the organization into being.

Other officers elected were Wayne Vanderwier, Coppersville high school, president; Joe Ryan, Grand Rapids Catholic high school, first vice-president; and Steve Miller, Grand Rapids Catholic Central high school, second vice-president.

The convention also adopted a constitution calling for "responsible student participation in school government."

Organization of the Michigan association left only four of the states in the nation without a state organization representing student councils.

Races Learn
About Each Other

OAK PARK (AP)—A sampling of the opinions of white and Negro students in South Oakland County's first Afro-American high school history class indicated today both sides felt they had learned much.

Jeff Charron, a white student, said that during discussions in the Oak Park school class he "heard black opinion for the first time and learned to respect the black man."

Claudette Twine, a black student, in a discussion before the Oak Park school board commented, "I know about my race and myself. We must understand each other's wishes."

The unique class was started last January with enrollment open only to seniors. Mrs. Frances Windham, who taught the class, said that about 80 of the 570 seniors at the high school took the course, with about a dozen Negroes in the class. The school has about 90 Negroes in a student body of 1,500.

Termining herself a "social science major who deals in people, all people," Mrs. Windham said that material in available books "did not fulfill the needs of the course" and much of the class work was via discussion groups. She described the courses as "successful" and said none of the students dropped out.

Maxine Vann, a Negro student, urged that the class idea be expanded to include discussions of the problems of all minority groups. She praised the class as a forum "where black and white students could confront and air differences."

Another white student, Mark Stouffer, said, "We were not sorry we took the class. After many years of not knowing about black people, I found out more in the last 17 weeks than in the last 17 years."

School Supt. Alfred Shroobree, who said the class was set up as the result of requests made by black students last Fall, termed the course "very successful." He said more than 100 student had signed up already for next year's course.

IN DETROIT
Corut Ruling
Cancels City
Ordinance

DETROIT (AP)—A Michigan Court of Appeals ruling which overturned the obscenity conviction of a Detroit man has also, in effect, wiped out the city ordinance under which Gary Grimshaw of Detroit was convicted in 1967.

Grimshaw was arrested after displaying in an artists' workshop a kite with a word generally considered obscene. The court ruled Grimshaw was convicted under an ordinance which inhibits free speech.

After the ruling announced Thursday, Detroit's legal experts began looking into the prospect of writing a new ordinance which will stand the test of constitutionality.

"What we have to do now is to study the Appeals Court opinion and to review our ordinance to see if we can't amend it to make it legal," said Robert D. McClellan, assistant corporation counsel for the city of Detroit. McClellan was prosecutor in the Grimshaw trial which resulted in a 15-day jail sentence, a $150 fine and a year on probation.

The appeals court threw out the conviction citing rulings by the U.S. Supreme Court and the Michigan Supreme Court which make it mandatory that defendants know the contents of the allegedly obscene material. The Michigan Supreme Court voided a state obscenity law on similar grounds.

A message to those Americans who don't happen to think the land of milk and honey is going all sour.

Our country is in a strange mood these days.
Uncertainty surrounds us.
So what can you do about it?
Well, first of all, maybe you should take a long, hard look at this country of ours. Maybe we should look at our healthy side as well as our ills.
And maybe, just maybe, you'll find we're not all that bad.

A Bond that's worth $25.00 in just 7 years.
If you did that every month you'd stash away quite a nest egg for yourself.
And so would your country.
Your country would be economically stronger to find remedies for some of the headaches we have. While it's preserving something called freedom.

Sure we have our problems. And they're not going to go away if you just stand along the sidelines as a spectator.

Something that's hard to appreciate. Until you lose it.
Savings Bonds now have a new high interest rate of 4 1/4%. And buying them gives you the privilege of also buying the even higher interest 5% Freedom Shares in combination.

But they might start to go away if you seriously want to do something for your country.

However you look at it, it simply makes a lot of sense to invest in your country.

A U.S. Savings Bond is one way. Let's say you fork over $18.75 of your hard-earned cash. Through a Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or at your bank. That will give you

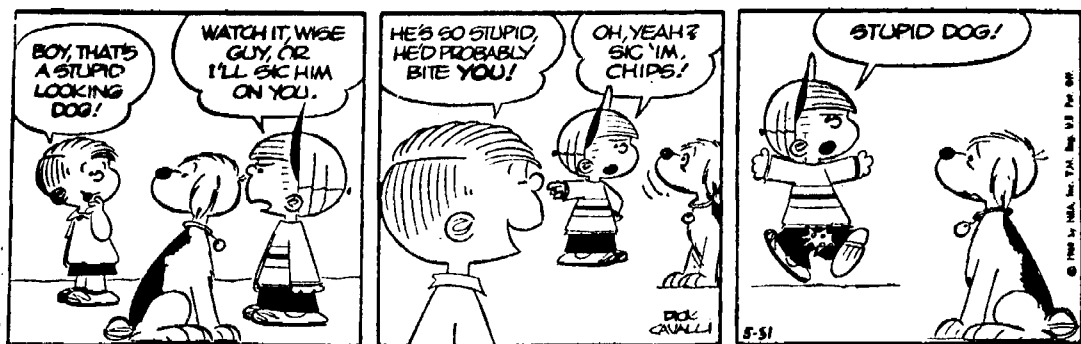

After all, it's the only country you've got.
